This Holistic Fair has been created by a dedicated group of people who are intensely committed to bringing healing support to our community. We look forward to partnering with loving, service-oriented holistic energy-based facilitators and practitioners to create a culture of Love. For the Fair to succeed, each person involved will need to invite their own clients to attend. Word of mouth is a powerful networking tool, and we encourage you tell others in our community about the Fair.

We thank you; we appreciate you; and we bless you,

Jason Carlson, The Holistic Fair Director

I acknowledge that I have read and accept this agreement.
